

CONGRESS TO INQUIRE INTO THE SIMS SPEECH IN LONDON

Senate Has Ordered an Investigation by Its Naval Committee—Resolutions in House Charges That the Remarks Constituted an Attack Upon Loyal Citizens of the United States—Secretary Denby is Awaiting a Reply to His Formal Inquiry Cabled to Admiral Sims

Washington, June 10.—Cormack was taken in both the senate and house today of the recent speech in London of Rear Admiral William S. Sims, referring to the United States in this country. The senate ordered its navy committee to investigate the speech, and in the house Representative Ryan, republican, of New York, introduced a resolution of investigation, charging that the remarks had constituted an attack upon loyal citizens of the United States of Irish blood and accused American citizens of being traitors.

Secretary Denby awaited a reply today from the navy committee, but the committee office without having received it. Meanwhile, official comment is being withheld at the department.

The senate resolution was introduced by Senator Harrison, democrat, Missouri, and was passed by a vote of 60 to 40 and without a record vote. Senator Wadsworth, republican, New York, asked that the senate take no action. Secretary Denby would not serve the same purpose as the resolution.

"Possibly so," Mr. Harrison replied. "But in this change in the subject so grave that the senate cannot afford to ignore them." Among members of the tributed to him has been correctly reported in press dispatches but left his subject, including the admiral's reply.

MEDICAL ASSOCIATION DEFERS ITS STAND ON LIQUOR

Poston, June 9.—Action on a resolution defining the attitude of the American Medical association on the prescription of liquor was postponed until the next annual meeting, today, when the board of delegates of the association assembled for the final meeting of its twenty-second annual convention.

The house of delegates expressed its approval of "all proper activities of state and federal governments directed to the prevention of disease and the preservation of the health of the people" at the next annual convention in St. Louis and elected Dr.

100 TO 400 PER CENT.
INCREASE IN RENTALS

New York, June 9.—Testimony showing heavy increases in office and loft building rentals, varying from 100 per cent. last year to 400 per cent. since 1915, was given today to the subcommittee on commerce of the house of representatives by Dr. J. H. P. Day, president of the National Association of Real Estate Brokers. Dr. Day, a member of the subcommittee, said he would not trouble himself to read figures as records.

Some of the buildings owned by M. J. Untermyer were the Standard Oil building, 26 Broadway, where it was charged that the rent had risen from $1,100 in 1915 to $4,700 in 1921, and another from $1,000

The liquor question came before the house in the form of a resolution offered by the author of the C. A. Arbor, Mich. It reiterated and reaffirmed the sentiment of the house in 1917 that the use of alcohol as a beverage is detrimental to the economy and that there is no scientific basis for use of a food and in the treatment of patients.

The vote on the resolution was a tie, which was broken by Dr. Dwight H. Murray, of the finance committee.

After the vote Dr. A. T. McCormack of Louisville, Ky., who tried to prevent postponement, asked immediate action regarding the resolution, which is in the words of the medical profession "by those who prescribe liquor indiscriminately."

The house finally passed a resolution providing for the report on health and public instruction which deplored the approach that has been brought upon the

The law concerning description of alcohol which expressed the association's approval of the proposal of a small minority of the profession of the sale of being purveyors of alcoholic beverages."

Resolutions offered by four state medical societies differed in their definitions of "state medicine," and the committee on legislation and public regulations which took them under consideration is expected to report on the subject of which the approved resolution was based.

In this report also the committee recommended its support of President Harding's plan for a national bureau of public welfare activities of the nation. It recommended that patients suffering from pulmonary tuberculosis be kept in private wards and rooms in the general hospitals of the country and advocated that a sir-

... would agree to have the data completed within a few days. He impressed upon the witnesses that the committee was not to be used with, accused the Equalization board of mismanagement, and expressed concern of members of the committee now toward the committee and said had been the most defiant of all the concerns with which the legislators had dealt. He said that the committee should accountants from the committee assist its own men in the work of immediate preparing the report.

The committee decided to go more fully into the affairs of the Prudential Insurance company and those of its president, James H. Dwyer, and requested aid from the state superintendent of insurance.

New York June 9.—Mrs. Eva Kask and her 20-year-old daughter, Miss Marian McArdie, late today were furnished over to Chief of Police Christie of Lakeside, O., to be taken back to Ohio tomorrow to face charges of a degree murder in connection with the killing of the girl's stepfather, Dan Kask, a wealthy publisher, nearly 70 years ago.

Although mother and daughter were both blind in the Tombs, they were able to identify the man who was arrested as the man who had been in the dock across the Bridge of Signs to the district attorney's office in the Criminal Court building.

with word that her ninety miles east of this port she had picked up a message from the Charlot asking for assistance. The local authorities at once agreed to the plea that the steamer was probably sinking but that the crew would be rescued by ships in the vicinity. A dense fog and rain rendered the search almost impossible. The investigation very difficult, the captain added.

The Seapool arrived in fair trim, with her cargo undamaged. She docked here and remained in port, which was scoured below the waterline.
